Our overarching mission is to improve the public’s health, using our research, teaching and analysis to promote well-being, prevent disease and reduce health inequalities.

For more information about any aspect of our work, please get in touch:

Cambridge Institute of Public Health
University of Cambridge School of Clinical Medicine
Forvie Site
Cambridge Biomedical Campus
Cambridge CB2 0SR
01223 330300
www.iph.cam.ac.uk
@InstPubHealth
11:30 Registration
12:00 Welcome
Professor Carol Brayne, Director, Cambridge Institute of Public Health
12:15 Engaging with policy – panel discussion
Professor Martin Roland (chair), Cambridge Centre for Health Services Research
Professor Joanna Chataway, director of Innovation, Health and Science, RAND Europe
Dr Tony Jewell, CMO Wales to 2012
Professor Mike Kelly, Senior Visiting Fellow, Department of Public Health and Primary Care
13:00 Lunch
14:00 Short talks – Reducing Inequality
Introduced by Professor Theresa Marteau, Director, Behaviour and Health Research Unit
Dr Isabel Clare, Consultant Clinical and Forensic Psychologist, NIHR CLAHRC EoE: ‘The work of community teams for people with intellectual (learning) disabilities: implications for public health’
Professor Fiona Matthews, MRC Biostatistics Unit, Cambridge; Institute of Health and Society, Newcastle University: ‘Using epidemiology to address inequalities: an example from dementia research’
Val Moore, Chair, Healthwatch Cambridgeshire: ‘The role and activities of Healthwatch to reduce health inequalities and encourage integrated care’
Dr Jenni Burt, Primary Care Unit, Department of Public Health and Primary Care: ‘Using vignettes to understand differences in patient experiences for White British and Pakistani adults in England’
15:00 Break
15.30 Short talks – Global Public Health
Introduced by Professor Nigel Unwin, strategic lead for global health research, MRC Epidemiology Unit
Dr Emma Pitchforth, Associate Director, Innovation, Health and Science group, RAND Europe: ‘Evaluation of the Nigerian Midwives Service Scheme: barriers and facilitators to implementation’
Dr Tine Van Bortel, NIHR CLAHRC EoE and CIPH: ‘Beyond the virus: The psychosocial impacts of the Ebola outbreak on affected individuals and communities’
Professor Paul Pharaoh, Centre for Cancer Genetic Epidemiology, Department of Public Health and Primary Care: ‘Moderate penetrance ovarian cancer susceptibility genes: the relevance for panel testing’
16.30 Enterprise, innovation and population sciences: working with industry to improve public health – panel discussion
Nick Wareham (Chair), CEDAR and MRC Epidemiology Unit, University of Cambridge
Frans van der Ouderaa, Chief Scientific Officer, Leyden Academy on Vitality and Ageing, Leiden, The Netherlands
Jaideep Prabhu, Jawaharlal Nehru Professor of Indian Business & Enterprise, Director of the Centre for India & Global Business, Judge Business School, University of Cambridge
Martin White, Director of Research, CEDAR and MRC Epidemiology Unit, University of Cambridge
17:15 Round Up
Professor Carol Brayne
17:30 Break and poster viewing
18:00 Public Health Annual Lecture
"Public Health without Borders: The Role of Knowledge in an Interdependent World"
Dr Julio Frenk, President, University of Miami, introduced by Professor Patrick Maxwell, Regius Professor of Physic, University of Cambridge
19:00 Reception with poster viewing
19:45 Close